

Consequences and Rewards

| | |
|-------------|---|
| Gold Zone | You will receive a sticker every time they reach Gold Zone. At the end of the half-term, all children who have been in Gold Zone will receive a certificate. |
| Green Zone | You will be allowed to attend the Green Zone Party in full at the end of the half-term. |
| Grey Zone | Your behaviour may result in you moving to Orange Zone. However, you can avoid this and move back to Green Zone if you try hard. |
| Orange Zone | You will miss your next break and dinnertime in detention. The school will phone home and send a letter explaining what has happened today. For every Orange Zone, you will miss 20 minutes of the Green Zone Party. |
| Red Zone | You will miss your next 3 breaks and dinnertimes in the Reflection Room. The school will phone home and send a letter explaining what has happened today. For every Red Zone, you will miss 40 minutes of the Green Zone Party. |

How it Works:

Everyday you start off in Green Zone. If you work hard or behave really well, you might get moved to Gold Zone!

If you do not go into Orange or Red Zone in a half-term you will be able to go to a special Green Zone party in the last week.

Grey Zone is an chance for you to think about your behaviour and change what you are doing before it becomes more serious.

Orange Zone is for if your Grey Zone behaviour gets worse or if you do something serious.

Red Zone is for if your Orange Zone behaviour gets worse or if you do something very serious.

We are sure that most children will finish each day in the Green Zone or Gold Zone.

Your teachers will use this code of conduct to decide which zone to put you in.

We want all children at our school to become great learners.

We believe that all of you have the right to learn and feel safe at school.

This is our code of conduct. By coming to our school, you agree to always behave in the best possible way.

Grey Zone Behaviours

If you do any of these things after being asked to stop, you have to move your name to Grey Zone:

- You are talking when you have been told to be silent;
- You do not follow instructions from an adult in school;
- You are disturbing others and preventing them from learning;
- Your behaviour means that you need a time-out from class.

In addition, if you continue to behave in this way after moving your name, you will be moved to Orange Zone.

If you improve your behaviour, you will be moved back to Green Zone.

Orange Zone Behaviours

If you do any of these things, you will have to move your name to Orange Zone:

- You use bad language or make rude signs with your hands on the playground;
- You are rude or disrespectful to a member of staff;
- You keep disturbing other children in class;
- You lose your temper and refuse to do as you are asked;
- Your behaviour means that you have to be sent to another classroom so as not to disturb others.

In addition, if you continue to behave in this way after moving your name, you will be moved to Red Zone.

Red Zone Behaviours

If you do any of these things, you will have to move your name to Red Zone:

- You hurt another child (even in retaliation);
- You throw an object to deliberately hurt somebody or damage something;
- You are involved in a fight;
- You keep upsetting another child deliberately;
- You use racist language or comments that upset a group of people;

Please note: if you are in Red Zone twice in a half-term, then a more serious consequence may apply and your behaviour will be dealt with by the Vice Principal or the Deputy Head teacher.
